Adpower FZCO is a leading provider of power and energy solutions in the Middle East and Africa (MENA) region, specializing in diesel generators, solar power systems, and EV charging solutions. With decades of expertise, Adpower serves industries such as construction, telecom, rail, oil & gas, and commercial sectors, delivering on-grid and off-grid power solutions that ensure reliability and efficiency. The company supplies a diverse range of diesel generators powered by globally recognized brands, including Perkins, Cummins, Lister Petter, Kubota, Iveco, and FPT, catering to backup, prime, and continuous power needs. Adpower also leads in renewable energy solutions, offering solar-powered light towers like the SunGlow SLT200 and SLT400, along with hybrid solar-diesel systems for sustainable power generation. With the growing demand for electric vehicle (EV) infrastructure, Adpower provides commercial and industrial EV charging stations, featuring AC and DC fast chargers, smart energy management, and scalable charging solutions. The company also offers genuine OEM spare parts and maintenance services, ensuring long-term performance and reliability for all power systems. Dedicated to innovation and sustainability, Adpower FZCO delivers customized energy solutions that align with the region's growing power demands and environmental goals. Its diesel generators range from 9kVA to 850kVA, designed for businesses of all sizes, while its hybrid and solar solutions help reduce carbon footprints without compromising efficiency. The EV charging stations cater to commercial, residential, and industrial sectors, integrating smart features like load balancing, remote monitoring, and dynamic pricing for maximum operational efficiency. Adpower's commitment to quality, customer support, and cutting-edge technology has made it a trusted power partner across the MENA region. Whether businesses require backup power, renewable energy, or EV charging infrastructure, Adpower FZCO ensures a seamless, cost-effective, and future-ready power solution tailored to their needs.
