Livewire Electrical was originally founded by Kent Griffin who started as an apprentice in the Industrial sector. After gaining qualifications and experience working on large installations and maintenance operations (overseas and in New Zealand), he became involved in residential and commercial electrical work. He has since developed a passion for helping customers with cost-effective electrical solutions delivered by electricians you can trust. Our focus is to deliver well thought out solutions for all your needs whilst working to your budget and timeframe. We pride ourselves on our professional yet friendly service providing the highest quality of workmanship along with respect for our clients and their property. <https://livewireelectricalauckland.co.nz/about-auckland-wide-electrical/>
