Over the weekend, we serviced a unit complex on Papamoa Beach. Due to a lack of maintenance over the years, a dense growth of lichen spores has grown over the whole roof. On this two-story structure, we utilised a powerful moss and mould roof treatment to kill and remove the lichen using a self-cleaning method. If your roof is infested with mould and lichen, now is the time to treat it. Do not wait until it is too late. Remember lichen spores can damage your roof permanently.
