Mylocum Group is a leading global healthcare recruitment agency specializing in the recruitment of all healthcare professionals. Established 18 years ago, we have come a long way from starting as a Locum Doctors agency to further expanding into Locum Nursing and Overseas recruitment agencies helping global talent connect with the UK healthcare sector. Our mission is to place the right candidate in the right employment for their skills, experience and requirements in the shortest time possible. Our people are industry experts, providing staffing solutions for the NHS and private healthcare providers, including nurses, doctors, Allied Health Professionals (AHP) and Health Science Staff (HSS). We also have a dedicated partner in India as well as our own team based in India who help us to source high caliber healthcare professionals. Our efficient, robust and comprehensive compliance team is fully aware of the requirements you'll have to fulfill before starting your job. We strive to offer a seamless service to our clients and continue to challenge ourselves and our services – to ensure we are one step ahead.
