By selling your car to an auto wrecking dealer. You are providing a supply of metal. A car wrecker primarily removes and collects the car. So they will only pay you based on how much money they think they can make on the other side of the transaction. The same thing applies to metal also. You see, scrap metal prices fluctuate all the time depending on the demand for that material. So, just like car parts, the total amount a car wrecker will pay you depends on what the market offers for that car. If you have a car and want to sell it.
